Create revision Notes using the Cornell Method

Dual coding: combine written text with diagrams, sketches or visual aids in your mind maps, clocks, notes and flash cards

Save your resources in folders by subjects

2

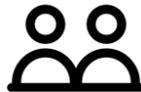

REVISE

Re create your mind map or revision clock from memory: If stuck re-look at the mind-map or clock and redo in a different colour. Start with a small section then move to the whole thing

Retrieval Relay Race: Write as much as you can about a topic in box 1, read your notes for five minutes, add further info on the topic in box 2. Repeat for box 3 and 4.

Have a friend or family member test you with your flash cards

Create a Question and Answer sheet. Cover the answers and write out your answer again. Cover the question and rewrite the question from the answer

BLURT out and write down all that you know on a topic in a set time (10 minutes max.), then refer to your revision guide and add anything you forgot in a different colour. Any areas in a different colour need revision guides and a mind map.

TEST YOURSELF

Completing practice questions is the best way to consolidate knowledge and identify your gaps

Visit the exam board website and download past papers. Watch the video to see how to do this

Complete the questions under timed conditions. General rule is 1 mark = 1 minute. Do this for 15 minutes – 20 minutes

Mark your answers

Those questions you have not answered well need to be revised in the remaining session time

After revising go back to the questions and redo in a different colour

Repeat
